

Max: Austin is having his appendix out today. He is going to miss seeing Dusty Field.

Gordy: Yeah. That's too bad! He really wanted to see Dusty.

Max: Let's go to Toys for Less since we each have two dollars and fifty cents.

Gordy: They are having a sale! I hope we can find some good stuff!

Max: Hey look! We can buy these baseballs and sell them for a higher price. We can sell them to people that want Dusty Field's autograph.

Gordy: That's a great idea. Then the people will have something they want, and we can make some money for ourselves.

Max: We can put our money together and we will have five dollars. We can buy a lot for that!

Gordy: That sounds like a great plan. Let's do it!

Max: Let's make sure we save some for us to get Dusty's autograph.

Gordy: Where should we sell them?

Max: We can sell them outside the store where Dusty will be. People will be standing in line there.

Gordy: Yes, they will want to buy one on their way in to see Dusty. Let's get started!

Max: How should we do this? I am a little embarrassed.

Gordy: Just start yelling about the balls we have for sale.

Max: Balls for sale! Get your ball for Dusty to sign.

Gordy: Get your baseballs right here. Great way for getting Dusty's autograph!

Max: Wow! We sold all the balls and we still have two for ourselves.

Gordy: Let's go get Dusty's autograph for ourselves.

Max: Wow! Look what Dusty wrote on my baseball. He is my friend!

Gordy: He sure is a good guy! Austin won't believe this!

Max: Oh no! We forgot Austin. We don't have any more balls left.

Gordy: We could take some of the money we made and buy another ball for Austin.

Max: That sounds like a great idea! Let's go buy a ball.

Gordy: We need to go back to Dusty and get it autographed.

Max: Gordy, Austin is going to be so surprised that we got this for him.

Gordy: Yes, maybe it will make him feel better soon!

The End